Dr. Nesa Sathya Satchi,
Vice Principal cum Professor
College of Nursing, GIMS

"Nursing is an art; and if it is to be made an art, it requires as exclusive devotion, as hard a preparation, as any painter's or sculptor's work." — Florence Nightingale

These words embody the essence of the profession we are privileged to serve. It is with immense pride that I welcome you to the official website of the College of Nursing, Government Institute of Medical Sciences.
Nursing education is the cultivation of character as much as the transfer of clinical skills. Every bandage rolled, every chart studied, and every patient comforted in our wards is a step toward building healthcare professionals who will one day stand at the bedside of the sick, offering not just treatment but reassurance. This is a responsibility we do not take lightly.

Our college has grown into a centre of academic excellence where scientific rigor meets human sensitivity. Our classrooms, skill laboratories, and clinical postings expose students to the real demands of modern healthcare, while our faculties work tirelessly to instil honesty, discipline, and empathy. We prepare our students not only to pass examinations, but to face hospitals, communities, and human suffering with confidence, competence, and compassion.
To our students: the uniform you wear is not just a symbol of your college, but a promise to every patient who will depend on you. Wear it with humility, and let your work speak louder than your words. Your well-being, safety, and professional growth remain our commitment at every step.
I invite you to explore our academic programmes, faculty, infrastructure, and student achievements.

With warm wishes for good health and continued success
